Debility

Perhaps you eat enough, yet you do not get much benefit from your food. You keep thin and weak; are tired all the time, and your nerves are in a bad way. Why not strengthen your digestion and get rid of your debility?

Read these words from Mrs. E. G. Munro, of Colong, Victoria. Mrs. Munro also sends her photograph.
"I suffered greatly with indigestion and debility for a long time. Sleep did not refresh me, and I was in a very bad state. One of my friends strongly recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after a good deal of hesitation I made up my mind to try it. To my great surprise, I had not taken one-half a bottle before I felt greatly improved in every way. I only took three bottles, and I can now honestly say that I am entirely free from all of my old troubles, and consider myself perfectly cured. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is certainly a wonderful blood medicine."

WASHINGTON CITY AS A MODEL

To make the national capital an ideal city as a model for the other cities of the United States is no new proposition. In some degree it has been kept in view from the very conception of the federal city on the banks of the Potomac. In a measure the dream has been realized. In its general plan, its wide, well-paved, tree-lined streets, in its parks and boulevards and in much of its development it is nearer what an American city ought to be than any other in the Union. President Roosevelt takes up the idea of making Washington a model city, but from a new point of view. He would have the national capital not only magnificent and attractive in its better portions, but he would have no slums. Washington must have its share of the poor, and even occasionally of the destitute, but it need not have slums.
The squalor of the Washington alleys; insanitary dwellings, overcrowded tenements are evils which the President sees in some parts of Washington, and which he would abolish.

The national capital, being under the direct control of Congress, and being measurably free from the conditions which breed slums, disease and crime in manufacturing and commercial centers, can and ought to be a model city, not only in the appearance of its spectacular portions, but in the humble quarters of the poor as well. This aspect of municipal administration has not heretofore been sufficiently dwelt upon. President Roosevelt will make his administration memorable for good if he succeeds in giving a strong impulse to the development of the national capital which shall eliminate the insanitary and squalid sections and make the city a model in its alleys as well as its avenues.—Philadelphia Press.

THAT'S SO.

It doesn't look fair that a Denver man should be allowed to vote 100 times in one day when the rest of us would have to live about 100 years to cast as many ballots.
